34 Faculty Members In Who's Who

University-Linked State Officials Also Listed

Thirty-four members of the University faculty and administrative staff are sketched in the new 1946-47 volume of "Who's Who in America," a check of the publication's geographical index indicates.

Headed by President Herman L. Donovan and President Emeritus Frank L. McVey, the roster of outstanding personalities included in the latest issue lists administrative officials, 24 full professors and 12 department heads with some duplication of classification. Only one woman, Miss Margaret I. King, University librarian, made the UK roster.

Those honored by listing in the 1946-47 volume are: Administrative officials: President Donovan, President Emeritus McVey; Dr. Leo M. Chamberlain, dean of the University; Dr. William D. Funkhouser, dean of the Graduate School; Dr. Thomas P. Cooper, dean of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics; Dr. Paul P. Boyd, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; Dr. Edward West, dean of the College of Commerce; Dr. William S. Taylor, dean of the College of Education; Dr. Alvin E. Evans, dean of the College of Law; James H. Graham, consultant with industry; and former dean of the College of Engineering, Louis Clifton, director of University Extension; and Miss King.

College of Agriculture and Home Economics: Dr. G. D. Buckner, chemist in charge of animal nutrition, Experiment Station; Dr. William W. Dimock, professor of veterinary science and head of the department of animal pathology; Edwin S. Good, professor of animal husbandry, emeritus; Dr. William D. Nichols, head of the department of farm economics; and George Roberts, professor of agronomy, emeritus.

College of Arts and Sciences: Dr. Harry Best, professor of sociology; Dr. William C. Bower, part-time professor of sociology; Dr. Thomas D. Clark, head of the department of history; Grant C. Knight, professor of English; Dr. Claiborne G. Latimer, professor of mathematics; Dr. Columbus R. Melcher, professor of German language and literature; Robert W. Miles, minister of the First Presbyterian church, Lexington, and part-time professor of history; Dr. Joseph W. Byron, professor of anatomy and physiology; Dr. Clay C. Ross, head of the department of educational psychology; Dr. Wendell H. Stephenson, professor of history; Dr. Edward Tuthill, professor of history, special assignment; Dr. Amory Vandenberg, head of the department of political science; Dr. William S. Webb, head of the department of physics and anthropology and archeology; and Dr. Martin M. White, head of the department of psychology.

College of Law: Dr. William L. Robenough, professor of Law.

In addition to present staff members, several other persons connected with the University are listed, including: Governor Simeon S. Willis and John Fred Williams, state superintendent of public instruction, both ex-officio members of the Board of Trustees; Richard C. Stoll, Lexington, chairman of the board executive committee; T. H. Cutler, Frankfort, alumni member of the board; and Guy A. Huguette, Lexington, member of the board of athletics.

Phi Beta Kappa Chooses Seven University Students

Six University seniors and one graduate were chosen for Phi Beta Kappa, national senior scholastic honorary for arts and sciences, in the annual fall election. Dr. Paul O. Richter, secretary of the campus chapter, announced yesterday.

The students honored were: Katherine Nelson Crapster, Winchester.

Wendell C. Demarcus, Knoxville, Tenn.

Horace L. Sawin, Lexington.

Margaret Lee Skinner, Camden, Ark.

Mary Lou Witherspoon, Lawrenceburg.

William W. Oliver, Hazard.

Albert Bush Brooke, Jr., Charlotte, N.C.

Betty Jean Pardo, Lexington.

Oliver, the graduate, is attending Northwestern University law school. He was graduated from UK in August.

Initiation for the newly chosen members is planned within the next two weeks. Dr. Richter stated. One made from the highest 10 per cent other Phi Beta Kappa selection is held each year—in the spring.

Selection for the honorary is in scholarship of the graduating class, according to Dr. Richter. But he added that standing is not the only consideration—the student's entire personality is evaluated. There is no rigid minimum scholastic standing requirement, he said.

The freshman book award, made by Phi Beta Kappa to the student with the highest standing for his freshman year, will be presented to Darrell D. Hancock, pre-law sophomore from Providence, at the December 5 convocation. Dr. Richter announced. The award consists of $25 worth of books of the student's choosing.

Officers of the UK Phi Beta Kappa chapter, in addition to Dr. Richter, are: Dr. Frank Randall (law), president; Dr. Clyde Crawley (physics), vice president; Mrs. Lydia Roberts Fisher (mathematics), treasurer.

The chapter, composed principally of faculty members has a membership of approximately 65.

Board Of Trustees Appoint Two New Department Heads

Two new department heads appointed by the Board of Trustees of the University of Kentucky.

Dr. Aubrey J. Brown was chosen as head of the department of markets and rural finance in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Professor R. E. Shaver was named professor of civil engineering and head of the department of civil engineering in the College of Engineering.

Dr. Brown will succeed Dr. H. B. Price, head of the department since 1929. The new department head came here in 1938 from the University of Illinois, where he received his A.B. and Ph.D. degrees. An associate professor in the college and an assistant in the Experiment Station, he was engaged in research work and teaching.

Dr. Price will continue as professor of agriculture economics in the college and economist in the Experiment Station.

Professor Shaver, a native of Greenville, Ky., was graduated with a B.S.C.E. from the University in 1927. Immediately following graduation he joined the Kentucky Highway department to do work in construction and materials testing. His professional C.E. degree was received in 1931. He was appointed as an instructor in the C.E. school in 1931. Professor Shaver has been a member of the faculty continuously since that time. In 1932, he became assistant professor and in 1938, associate professor.

Shaver has had a part in the groundwork and planning of such extensive University projects as the building of Stoll field, McLean stadium, and more recently Coopers-town and Shawneetown. His principal jobs involved the surveying and layout, drainage, materials testing, and construction.

Other appointments and staff changes appointed by the committee were: College of Arts and Sciences—Appointments: Fred E. Shelby, assistant professor of chemistry; Erwin W. Straus, lecturer in psychology; Cloyd N. McAllister, part-time instructor in hygiene and assistant in the University Health service; Mrs. Aida Greenhood, instructor in Romance Languages; Charles Poylovich, instructor in political science; Dorothy Lindco, instructor in German; W. C. Gibbs, temporary professor of history; Clinton S. Adams, instructor, Department of Geography; Robert W. Miles, part-time professor of history; Mrs. Jacqueline W. Clark, instructor in English; Mrs. Ragnhild Lunde, part-time instructor in English; Mrs. Faye Wetzel, part-time instructor in English; Earl T. Tyler, instructor in English; Mrs. Georgia Myers, part-time instructor in English; Theodore K. Dyer, part-time instructor in mathematics, placed on full-time for the months of September through December; Nadie Lee Walker, part-time instructor in mathematics; Sarah L. Ripley, instructor in mathematics; Mary P. Wiedeman, instructor, Department of Anatomy and Physiology; Kenneth Kuhn, part-time instructor in journalism; Gordon H. Leader, assistant professor of chemistry; Margaret Roser, part-time instructor in library science.

Leaves of absence: Ernest G. Trimble, associate professor of political science, leave extended to Jan. 1; Henry Beaumont, professor of psychology, leave extended through fall quarter; Laurie K. Martin, associate professor of library science, granted sabbatical leave for the spring, fall and winter quarters of 1947; Margaret Horsfield, assistant professor of Romance Languages, granted sabbatical leave from September, 1946 through 1947, is returning at the end of the fall quarter and will resume her teaching duties Jan. 1.

Resignations: Henry Birnbaum, instructor in English; Anne Wallace Shrophire, instructor in English.

College of Agriculture and Home Economics—Appointments: Paul M. Phillips, associate professor of farm crops; Anne Faye, assistant home demonstration agent, Boone county; Nell Cherry, assistant home demonstration agent, Graves county; Amelia Mason, assistant home demonstration agent, Christian county; Robert E. Friedly, as-

Ag. Council Reorganized Underclassmen Are Represented

The Ag Council has been organized for the first time in five years. It consists of the presidents of the various clubs and organizations in the Agriculture and Home Economics College and representatives from the freshman and sophomore classes. The purpose of the Ag Council is to act as a clearing body for all social functions and other activities to be carried on within the college. In the past the Council has also sponsored the annual dinner for Home Economics and Agriculture students and faculty.

At the meeting Monday, November 18, Jim Welch, President of Block and Bridge was elected President of the Council, and Cyrene McCoun, President of Phi Upsilon Omicron, was elected Secretary. Others present were Vivien Heinz, President of 4-H Club, Patch Woodfolk, President of Alpha Zeta, Mick Duff, President of Poultry Club, and Tom Cobb, President of the Dairy Club. Those appointed to the Council were Ann Park and Richard Crafton, freshmen; Enoch Ridley and George Judge, sophomores.

COME! Bid The Boys Goodbye Tonight

A send-off pep rally for the Wildcat football squad on its last trip of the season to Knoxville for the Tennessee game tomorrow afternoon will form tonight at 7:30 in front of the Alumni gym.

The University band, cheerleaders, and a police escort will lead the fans and team down Lexington to Main and the Union station where the team is scheduled to leave at 8:05.

A pep rally at the station will begin at 7:45 and will consist of music by the band and cheers. Howard Stephenson, president of the Student Government association, will represent the student body in presenting to Coach Bryant and the three captains for tomorrow's game—Jesse Tunstall, Phil Cutchins, and Charlie Bill Walker—a horseshoe of carnations symbolizing good luck.

In announcing the plans for the last pep rally of the 1946 football season, Sukey President Bill Leslie urged every student to be present at tonight's rally. "With Tennessee, the Wildcats' perennial foe, topping off an already successful football season, Sukey wishes to make the pre-Tennessee game rally the most enthusiastic pep program yet arranged," Leslie concluded.

UK Victory Might Bring Bowl Bid

Kentucky's football Wildcats each year have one ambition in general—a good season—but one objective in particular—victory over Tennessee's Volunteers. The 1946 quest for this success takes place Saturday in Knoxville's Shields-Watkins stadium, where the Cats and Vols meet in the 42nd renewal of their series which began in 1893. A crowd of 40,000, including at least 5,000 Wildcats, will be on hand to see the contest for the old bragging rights with Tennessee, probably a one-touchdown favorite.

The Vols have won the "brew-barrel battle" trophy 24 times in that long series; 11 years have found it in the Bluegrass home. Six melees have ended in ties. In that first game, incidentally, Kentucky humiliated Tennessee, 53-0, thereby scoring more points than in the last three tries prior to this season. Not since 1935 has a Bluegrass bunch topped the terrible Tennesseans; that victory was by a 27-0 margin over a Bill Britton-coached eleven. The Cats have never defeated Bob Neyland, whose era of bowl teams began a series of Tennessee triumphs that now total 11 straight. No game was played in 1943 when both schools were inactive on the gridiron, but two hits were contested in 1944. Last year the Vols, coached by John Barnhill who is now at Arkansas, realized a 14-0 win.

Neyland Back at UT

There's hardly any basis for comparison between the current edition of Wildcats and previous representatives, since the advent of Coach Paul Bryant and a "new deal" in Kentucky football, so the boys in blue hold better than an outside chance of stopping and topping the Orange and White. Neyland, who reached the rank of brigadier-general in World War II is back at the vol helm, has led them to seven wins in eight starts. On Wake Forest has bested Tennessee, this being a 19-6 upset just one week after the Vols had bumped Alabama from the unbeaten class and apparently had a psychological "let-down."

This opinion is held by Mike Baltaris, Vol end for three years and now a Cat assistant. Mike says the Tennessee eleven starts pointing or "bama in spring practice. Other than the Tide, the Volunteers have beaten Georgia Tech, Duke, North Carolina, Chattanooga, Mississippi and Boston college. Comparative scores are confusing for Tennessee topped Alabama, 14-0. Kentucky was beaten, 21-7, by the Tide. The Wildcats opened with a 20-6 margin over Ole Miss, but the Vols trailed until the last 23 seconds before edging the Rebels, 18-14. In a game which holds the traditional rivalry that Saturday's does, however, past scores are not sure indications of what is to come.

Baltaris has seen 16 Tennessee games this year, reports his old team as having its best line ever, almost intact, by the way, from the 1942 Sugar Bowl squad. This is quite a recommendation, for he himself played with such stalwarts as Bob Snuffridge, Ed Molinski and

Winner Announced In ODK Tag Sale

By Ed Barnes

Winning by a large margin the Zeta Tau Alpha's took top honors in the ODK Tag Sale contest. The Chi O's barely nosed out the Tri-Deltas for second place; Alpha Gamma Delta and Alpha Delta Pi tied for fourth place. The contest sponsored by ODK was to promote money for the University Athletic Fund and to boost school spirit by wearing the tags before the football games.

Beaming with the same excitement and bright personality that personified the Zeta's work from the very start, pretty Joyce Jordan, freshman from Manchester, accepted the ODK trophy from Ed Barnes, Louisville, chairman of the contest. The trophy is reputed to be one of the largest ever presented to a sorority at the University.

Perry, Junior from Lexington, represented Alpha Delta Pi. Other sorority chairmen were: Flo Baker, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Janey Jameson, Alpha Xi Delta; Elizabeth Reynolds, Kappa Alpha Theta; Martha Quillen, Delta Zeta; and Romana Newman, Kappa Delta.

The final results and winners for the fraternities will be announced at an early basketball game. The trophy to the winning fraternity and a check to the athletic fund will be presented at that time.

The Pep Tags were familiar to many of the old students who had seen them last in 1942, but to many the traditional Tags were as new as a Republican congress. Bill Caywood and George Dudley, two of the oldest ODK members, stated that they were highly pleased with the cooperation of the students in supporting the contest. "Perhaps," they said, "ODK can donate enough to the Athletic Fund for a down payment on another Erlenmeyer."

Cugat Concert, Dance Scheduled For Thanksgiving Entertainment

Xavier Cugat, internationally famed maestro, and his company of more than 50 performers will make their first Lexington appearance Thanksgiving night, November 28, in a popular concert at Memorial hall from 8 to 9:30 to be followed by a dance in the Bluegrass room of the Union from 10 to 12:30.

The appearance is under the sponsorship of the Kentucky Epsilon chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon. When interviewed concerning the proposed concert and dance, Bob Babbage, SAE president, explained the purpose and background for the move. Babbage said that the prime reason is to establish the precedent of truly "big name" entertainment at UK, and incidentally to show that such entertainment can gain the support of the student body, hence be profitable. He said that if this engagement is the success he believes it will be, the SAE will publish a financial statement showing every item of expense encountered from the very beginning of the arrangements to bring Cugat here.

In that way it can be proved that top drawer entertainers can be supported by UK students, a fact that, in the past, has been questioned many times.

Babbage went on to tell of the type of program Cugat will present. The concert will be a prototype of the Cugat shows presented in the famed theatre-restaurants of the nation such as New York's Elton

Xavier Cugat

Quarter and the Wedgewood room at the Waldorf, the Chicago Palmer House's Empire room, and Club Monaco and Ciro's in Hollywood. Several who have seen Cugat's presentation in other cities comment in glowing terms concerning the brilliant showmanship and color of the special Cugat, has created of course the many movies he has been featured in have well demonstrated the novelty of his specialty numbers.

Babbage said that concerning the dance he would like to emphasize one point. The music will be 95 per cent slow, smooth, danceable numbers or popular swing. The 3 or 4 rumbas or sambas to be played at the dance will be pointed up as specialty numbers for their "show" value. Cugat has built his widespread reputation on his brilliantly executed Latin music, but his rendering of current and old familiar popular tunes is equally superb.

Arrangements for Cugat's appearance, Babbage said, were made through Bill Richard of the Music Corporation of America in Chicago. Fifty per cent of the price goes as down payment. This amount was underwritten by various individual members of the chapter, while the chapter as a whole guaranteed the full payment.

Dance tickets will be limited to 800 to prevent the overcrowding sometimes encountered in the Bluegrass room, while concert tickets of course will be limited to the capacity of Memorial hall. All tickets are on sale in the Student Union lounge, at Shackleton's Music store, and at the Lafayette hotel. Concert tickets are $2.00, and for the semi-formal dance to follow $5.00 per couple. Both prices include all federal and state taxes.

Confusion Clouds Elections, You Guess Who's Running

By Tom Dunne

Kernel News Editor

Voting in the most mixed-up Student Government Association election in many years will take place from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday, November 26, in the Y lounge of the Union instead of both the Y lounge and McVey as originally announced.

But students need not get too excited about the chance to exercise their right to vote—in three colleges there will be no contest. In these schools the Constitutionalists seemingly gave up the ghost—no candidate of the party filed to run. Independent candidates who will be chosen without opposition in these schools are George Goody-koonitz (commerce), and Martha Rich (education), and J. Pelham Johnston (law).

The Independents also had the only candidate to file for lower class man from arts and sciences—Jerry Eastham. In fact the Independents had two candidates to file for the position, but with wire-crossing typical of the whole picture, one of the applicants had not fulfilled the residence requirements. To top the rest, Bob Purvair, Cluque choice who failed to file is a fraternity brother of Charlie Gardner, Constitutional president and the person nominally in charge of the party's campaign.

Confusion may have reigned supreme within both organizations, with more torn hair coming from the Cluque. Eastham, Independent campaign manager, has been conducting a very active program. But two of his 10 candidates were found to be ineligible, and, although his literature says that Ellis Johnston will be the Independent candidate from law, the only candidate to register from that school is one W. Pelham Johnston.

Back to the department of utter confusion—the Constitutionalists did not even select their candidates under the new apportionment system, passed Monday, November 11. The party held no meeting after the new system was approved. Wednesday night party leaders began trying to pull strings to get the fat out of the fire. But it was too late—filing was closed Tuesday afternoon.

Agriculture and home economics is the only college in which the picture is clear. Leslie Hammond (Independent) will oppose James Welch (Constitutionalist). Out of the four proposed races in arts and sciences only one will be contested. Jean Asbury (Independent) will run against Charlotte Salisbury (Constitutionalist) for lower class woman. Casey Goman (Constitutionalist) is unopposed as upper class woman representative. There is no candidate for A and S upper class man representative.

In the engineering college one of two scheduled races will be contested. Eugene Amburgey (Independent) is unopposed as upper class man representative. Carl McKnight (Independent) is running against James Linville (Constitutionalist) for lower class man representative.

Ag College King And Queen Rule Over Week-End Festival

The crowning of Tom Cobb and Sylvia Smith as "Ag College King and Queen," plus corn-husking, milkmaid, horse-harnessing and "husband-calling" contests, stock exhibits, door prizes, stunts and music will highlight the annual fall festival, first since 1942, to be held Friday and Saturday nights in the stock pavilion.

Friday night's festivities, according to Jim Welch, Block and Bridge president, will open with a short talk by Dean Thomas Cooper, followed by a dairy cattle showman'ship contest. The contest winner, to be picked by Dr. Fordyce Ely, will receive a cup from Alpha Gamma Rho. After a milkmaid contest by representatives of the 4-H and Home Ec clubs, and McDowell and Hamilton houses, Harold Barber will exhibit University sheep which will be shown at the December International Livestock show in Chicago.

In the last events of the evening, agriculture professors will compete in a horse-harnessing contest and a hog showman'ship contest will be judged by Professor E. S. Good, and a sheep showman'ship contest.

Climax of the festival will be the coronation of the king and queen. Cobb will be crowned by Cyrene McCoun, Phi Upsilon Omicron president, and Patch Woolfolk, president of Alpha Zeta, will crown the queen.

Sylvia Smith

Ringsmaster Jim Crowley will introduce the knights, Carl Bell and George Preas, and the attendants, Sue Warren and Marjorie Bradford.

be a corn-husking contest by agriculture professors, a husband-calling contest by wives of students and faculty members, and a chicken-picking contest by the girls of the agriculture college.

Alpha Gamma Rho will present a fat-stock showman'ship cup to the winner among beef cattle, swine, and sheep showman'ship competitors. All three categories will be shown by members of the livestock, management class. Prizes will be awarded winners of agriculture department and club exhibits.

Music for both nights will be furnished by a colored band from Dunbar high school, Welch said, and slightly door prizes of apples and dressed chickens will be awarded. Food concessions will be handled by various clubs.

Stunts will be given throughout the festival by the following Block and Bridge pledges: Mike Duff, Shirley Phillips, John Venables, Lindsey Horn, George Preas, James Kemp, Charles Beckman, Shirley Harnat, John Burrier, Thomas Broun, Tom Baldwin, George Young, Charles Easton, Carl Sinclair, Harold Love, Boone Rose Jr., Charles Shelby, and Clarence Crabtree.

"Doors will be open for the exhibits at 7 p.m. each night," Welch announced, "and the program begins at 8 p.m. Fifty cents admission will be charged to support the University livestock judging team."

Other Saturday night events will

too, it may be at the end of a long struggle, you have seen if only in transient glimpses—that after doubt comes reverence, after anxiety peace, after faintness courage, and that out of weakness we are made strong. Suffer these glimpses to become an abiding vision, and you have the supreme joy of life.” LeBaron Russell Briggs, long-time professor at Harvard, summarizes from his varied experiences what college can offer.

This is no ordinary blank space. Neither is it what every woman knows or space to work algebra. It is a space for serious thought. The pace of college life is such that few of us have time to consider how lucky we are to be here. Not that that's the only thing to consider, though.

By now, you know that this blank space is time out for Thanksgiving. We could list things by the dozen for which you could be thankful. ... you know your ... than we do. So, out from under yourself—the little things that mount up to the big things that make Thanksgiving.

And then take at least a part of that holiday to stop and thank whatever God you worship.

College Defined

At college, if you have lived right, you have found enough learning to make you humble, enough friendship to make your hearts large and warm, enough culture to teach you refinement of simplicity, enough wisdom to keep you sweet in poverty and temperate in wealth. Here you have learned to set great and small in their true relation, to look at both sides of a question, to respect the point of view of every honest man or woman, and to recognize the point of view that differs most widely from your own. Here you have found the democracy that excludes neither rich nor poor, and the quick sympathy that listens to all, and help by the very listening. Here

Wright or Wrong

While making your busy rounds last week you probably noticed one or more signs announcing National Education Week. As one campus wit put it: "Why not have a National Education Week? There are a few things to be said for education."

It is the blasé attitude of all college students to treat their college education, not as an opportunity, but as something to be made light of. The nationalizers say this is not to be worried over. College students, they say, are really serious-minded people, men and women, but they don't like to act that way. I wonder.

I would say about 50 per cent of the students enrolled in the University are primarily interested in getting a degree in the shortest possible time with the least amount of work that they can. It is a fine point to determine whether or not this is the fault of the students or the fault of the educational system to which they have been subjected.

Certainly hypocrisy, bribery and plain out and out ignorance persist here and at other "institutions of higher learning." Some of this wrong thinking and inexcusable laziness can be attributed to the system and professors; some of it we can only blame ourselves for.

Recently a prominent educator in Kentucky made this statement: "This, I think, is a valid indictment, generations if we are to measure the extent of ignorance by the difference between discovered truths and the accumulated knowledge and literacy possessed by the masses." This, I think, is a valid indictment. Indirectly, it points right at the college student and the system of which he is a product.

Most teachers implore their students to think; yet few of them actually encourage it. There is no premium put on thinking. Actually the emphasis is put on the more material aspects of education. Educators allow themselves to be boisterously outmoded ideas to the extent that a wonder any student has anything more than a degree to show for his four years of college. And a degree should represent more than a piece of parchment.

Under our present system students are expected to spend two hours of outside preparation for every hour they spend in class. This absurd notion has so bewitched some teachers that they consider classroom time as little more than a period to check the class roll and make assignments. As a further consequence of this type of thinking, all of the students' interest and attention is diverted toward making a good grade. It seems that educators fail to realize that a student can make an "A" in that course without actually learning anything about the subject he is supposed to be studying.

I have just named a few faults and there are many more. It's high time

Record Review

TOPS IN WAX—Spike Jones debuts his "Other Orchestra" on the Victor label on Mink, the "A" side. George Rock takes some Herbert L. Clark variation—the trumpet to show his technique and skill, the reeds to corn, a la Clyde McCoy, in a "Sugar Blues" style of "wah-wah" "George has been with Spike's Gipsy Slickers for the past three years and is a show-stopper wherever the Slickers perform. Eddie Kusby is the star of Lassus Trembone, the re-venue, and plays with surprisingly fine technique and control. Spike's idea is to ... music listening intermingled with little humor without fog-horn and cowbell panic.

EFFECT MUSIC—Jewell records in her another impressive series of record releases: "The Man With The Horn," and Hip Boyd's "Slide To The Dawn" and "Duck Middle." These four sides are all instrumentals and find Raeburn in full another groove. Raeburn calms down will search for adjectives, others will be impressed and the non-jokes will shunt these off. The two "A" sides (Man With The Horn and Slide) find big band performances of an extravagant nature, highly melodic and surprisingly arranged. Both arrangements for these titles were made by Johnny Richards and in justice to the great musical talent within the band, The "B" sides are perhaps along the commercial line less interesting—and understandable.

DANCE—Count Basie goes Dizzy Gillespie. He opens up "Mutton Leg" an instrumental, with a few licks that flank his work on the piano. This progresses to an excellent and outstanding trumpet ride by Snooky Young and some stratospheric sax harmonies by Illinois Jacquet. The record is sparked by

Vote Of Little Man Throws Campus Into Consternation

Little Man cast his fateful ballot at the Good Ball. Beauty Queen Huffa Puffa opened the tiny slip of paper. Would it be Waffleburner? Oh, let it be Fallow!

Queen Huffa gasped as she lisped dramatically the name of Little Man's ballot—Kilroy, the champion of the Little Man!

—From the Duke Chronicle.

Roommate: So you've found your one and only, dear?

In love: Yes, and we plan to get married as soon as he asks me.

It is said Gypsy Rose Lee awoke fully clothed one morning and screamed, "Good heavens, I've been draped!"

The fortune teller gazed into his crystal ball and told his young-lady client that something very amusing was about to happen to her. Then he burst into uproarious laughter. The young lady rose and smacked his face. "Why did you do that?" asked the astonished clairvoyant. "My mother," she said firmly, "always told me to strike a happy medium."

In consequence of this fatal failure to exercise his democratic privilege, Little Man had provoked an unprecedented dilemma in the history of Student Goldfish Association (SGA) to confirmed grasshoppers' elections. The election had ended in a dead heat: Fellow 998, Kilroy (the champion of the Little Man) 2. Kilroy had been disqualified at the last minute for overlooking a P. T. class. The gym was the only place he hadn't been.

The problem furrowed the brow of many a campus insider: PJ Chairman Shady Spott, BVD Boss Noe Kimona, Dean A. K. Chestflexer, and the combined memberships of ODK, BOS, the Chess Club, the Westminster Fellowship, and the "I Been Gyped By Ralph Society." Professor Lemuel C. Hollerwell devoted one of his "Hours of Mystery" to the metaphysical aspects of the deadlock.

Outgoing SGA head Blubber Hubber, a man of action, appointed an investigating committee to knife through to the heart of the deadlock. However, like most SGA investigating committees, its efforts were fruitless. A close scrutiny of the SGA constitution, retrieved from its dusty nook in the University vault, revealed no pertinent clause.

Hoochie Jailer, WSGA chief, could offer no word of consolation to her stricken brethren. No constitutional measure provided for a punishment of Little Man, who had forgotten to vote.

Anarchy reigned. The grassy lawns of the camp, unprotected by a watchful SGA, began to resemble the Great Sahara.

But don't fall to put your dough on Little Man. He came through.

When he crawled from his CC tower to the barren dunes below, he was aghast at the grim visages of those politicians who, only yesterday, he had jovially greeted him in the Dope Shop or the Union chow line. A massive hulk, who had given him a stick of gum and a free ticket to the Bassett dance, sneered disdainfully. "You did it, Little Man."

"Why, Thug Axter, what do you mean?"

"Everybody knows. You forgot to vote. And after all that gum too! We don't have the SGA any more. Fellow and Waffleburner are tied, 998 to 998. Spott and Kimona are tearing their hair." Axter became more excited, hysterical. "And look at the quadrangles! No more grass," he sobbed.

"Oh, Thug, what have I done?"

CHRONICLE Editor Horace Hodgson, analyzing the situation in a three column editorial, proposed a captivating solution. Why not let Little Man cast the deciding ballot at intermission to the Co-ed Ball? If Coach Stenecole Dade would permit it, the stadium could be thrown open for the occasion—dancing under the stars! Politics! Drama! A breath taking spectacle! Thousands of dollars for the Social Standards coffers to provide a chief behind every bush on East!

The idea spread like wildfire. The politicians were gleeful, their problems solved. Little Man, the Man of the Hour was winned and dined for weeks. Waffleburner served him breakfast in bed. Fellow performed his math homework. The SGA would be again!

But there is no rest for the weary. With the tense thousands watching,

SGA Acts On Student Suggestions

The suggestions committee of the Student Government Association Assembly set up to take action on suggestions and complaints turned in by the student body made its first report to the assembly Monday.

Action taken by the committee is as follows (committee report quoted):

"1. Complaint that the traffic congestion at Lime and Graham avenue presents a serious problem, and that the close parking on University grounds, particularly at the ends of sidewalks, makes walking hazardous.

"Report: Trice talked to Mr. Farris of the department of maintenance and operations. Mr. Farris agreed to contact the city commissioners, suggesting that they paint red lines along the curbing or place appropriate signs to prevent parking on both sides of Graham.

"2. Students of McVey Hall asked if pencil sharpeners might be installed in the hall of that building.

"Report: Mr. Farris consented to install a pencil sharpener on each floor of McVey Hall. He stated that the season mere sharpeners are not there is that the students invariably steal them."

"3. Complaint came that the clocks in McVey hall are broken and do not keep correct time.

"Report: Mr. Farris says that new clocks are on order now, and will be installed as soon as possible. The old clocks are beyond repair. Until the new ones arrive, the students must go by the bells, which are correct, rather than the clocks.

"4. It was requested that the chimes in Memorial Hall play between classes.

"Report: Mr. Farris states that the necessary apparatus is now on order."

"5. Several complaints were made about the poor lighting in the library. The students feel that the lamps on the tables are definitely injurious to their eyes."

"Report: The committee found that when the library was built, the plans called for an elaborate system of indirect lighting for the whole building. However, money ran low as the building progressed, and the present lighting fixtures were installed purely as a temporary measure. The indirect lighting is not now possible for the following three reasons: (1) The difficulty of getting personnel to do the work; (2) financial reasons, since the installation would cost approximately $15,000; (3) the necessary materials are not now obtainable.

"The committee plans to take further action on this matter, and will report to the assembly at the next meeting."

"6. The suggestion was made that the shrubbery by Maxwell Place on

We were dealt a very low blow last week. Some evil person, in an attempt to get us in hot water, left us a note in the Kernel newsroom which stated that Marjean Winstrop was pinned again—this time to "Jiggs" Davis.

Now, as far as we were able to learn up to this column's deadline, Miss Winstrop is still pinless.

Dream Girl conscious Sig Eps are still not quite certain about their Kappa Delta candidate, Jo Ann Belton. It was reported the first of the week that said candidate was pinned to Phi Delta Hugh Hazelp. Some KDs say it's true, others say 'taint so. Come, come, girls, get together. You have some mighty worried Sig Eps.

Here's Lewis Hart (SX) again: Betty Priestly and Joe Holland (SAE) are unpinned. Hart is the third party.

Although not speaking to each other, Dick Youngerman (SX) and Mary Lou Howard (K) are still keeping their date for the Sigma Chi Sweetheart dance.

Kitty Dade (Delta Delta Delta) is knitting socks for the all-high General Walkwright. It seems that boyfriend Lt. Col. Dooley, the general's aide, was the recipient of a pair of said socks from Kitty and the general took a fancy to them. One promotion, coming up.

When-I-get-my-pln-I-give-it-to-you Bill Newmann (Phi Sigma Kappa pledge) is the talk of his fraternity. We once heard about a boy giving away his pledge pin. Would that do, Joyce Lewis?

A blind date has ended in the steady company of Jane Dabney (Delta Zeta) and Gay Pack (Phi Delta Theta).

Philosophical musing of the week: Women are like cigarettes—They come in a pack, get lit, hang onto your lips, make you puff, go out and overhangs the sidewalk.

"Report: Mr. Farris has sent the order to have the shrubbery pruned.

According to James Trice, chairman of the committee, many more student suggestions have been given consideration, with action already begun on several. However, the committee would not release for publication any facts until more complete action has been taken.

Members of the committee are: Trice (graduate), Mrs. Kathrine Johnstone (ag-home ec), Howard Stewart (engineering), Sue Ann Bradford (commerce), Tom Duncan (arts and sciences), Arnett Mann (law, and Lee Trabue (education).

Unexpectedly, leave a bad taste in your mouth, and yet, they satisfy.

Pinings: "Dot" Winkler (Kappa Delta pledge) to C. E. Martin (Sigma Phi Epsilon); Marianna Young (Alpha Gamma Delta) to Ralph Hayes (Alpha Tau Omega); Helen Mokas to Jim Lett (Delta Tau Delta).

University Enrollment Is Cosmopolitan—Survey Shows

Every Kentucky county except Lyon, 40 other states, the District of Columbia, two U. S. possessions and five foreign countries are represented in the record-smashing fall quarter enrollment of the University according to a geographical analysis of the student body compiled by the department of public relations.

Increases in virtually every geographical unit are to be observed in the current quarter's enrollment as compared with that of one year ago, the report shows. The overall total of 6613 students, 4,935 men and 1,678 women represents an increase of greater than 145 percent over the enrollment of 2,663 students recorded for the fall quarter of 1945.

Fayette county again leads all other units in the number of student representatives with 1,502, an increase of 856 over the number from this county enrolled one year ago. Next nearest "competitor" is Jefferson county with a total of 476 as compared to 148 for fall, 1945.

Other Kentucky counties having enrollments in the three figure brackets are Kenton, 161; Boyd, 137; Franklin, 146; Daviess, 108 and Harlan, 105. Lyon county, the only Kentucky county not represented in the current enrollment, was represented by one student during the fall quarter of 1945. Counties having student enrolled this quarter who were not represented in the UK enrollment of one year ago are Allen, Butler, Meni fee and Metcalfe.

Overheard in a ladies' washroom: "I met the most wonderful new man last night. He invited me to a wonderful dinner at his apartment and afterwards he showed me a dozen mink coats and asked me to choose one for myself."

"Amazing! And what did you have to do?"

"Just shorten the sleeves."

Ag Conference Held In Memorial Hall

A conference of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics Extension Workers has been held in Memorial hall since Tuesday, November 19, until today, November 22. Mr. T. R. Bryant, Assistant Director of Agricultural Extension, has been acting as chairman.

These conferences are held annually by the Extension Division, and are for the purpose of exchanging views on local problems and developments and improvements in the field of agriculture. Kentucky's 120 counties are allotted 200 county agents and assistants, and 82 home demonstration agents and assistants. Five of these are Negro agents.

As is customary, guest speakers from other schools and the United States Department of Agriculture are invited to come here for the conference. This year we asked Dr. George F. Johnson, Pennsylvania State College; Dr. Edwin Mims, Vanderbilt University; Miss Mary L. Collins, USDA; Miss Elin Anderson, USDA; Mr. J. R. Pauling, University of Missouri; and Director M. L. Wilson of the USDA.

The conference, one of a series of programs designed to benefit Kentucky farmers, will be adjourned after a closing speech by Dean Thomas Cooper today at 11:15.

Petitions for representation of unaffiliated Greeks on Panhellenic and Interfraternity council were presented by the Organization of Unaffiliated Fraternity Men and Women to the councils and accepted by them.

The Stray Greeks, organized earlier in the year, will not be eligible to vote, but in all other respects, will have the same status as other fraternal organizations on the campus.

President Rusty Russell will represent the Greeks on the Interfraternity council, and vice-president Elizabeth Lowry will be on the Panhellenic council.

The twelve organizations represented in the Stray Greeks are Beta Theta Pi, Alpha Delta Phi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Sigma, Kappa Delta, Upsilon Phi, Phi Kappa, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Theta Chi, Tau Epsilon Phi, Phi Mu, Phi Sigma Sigma, and Pi Beta Phi.

Alumni Dinner Dance Honors UK Athletes

The University Alumni association will hold its annual dinner dance for members of the Wildcat football squad Monday night, November 25, in the Bluegrass room of the Student Union building.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 and dancing will follow until 11:30. There will be a floor show presented during the dinner. Dance music will be furnished by Jimmy Gilpin and his orchestra.

All squad members and dates, and all members of the athletic staff and dates, wives, or husbands will be invited. University girls will be given late permission for the dance. These annual affairs started over 20 years ago and have been sponsored each year by the Lexington alumni.

Van Paasen Speaks Monday In Memorial Hall

Pierre Van Paasen, author, lecturer, commentator on world affairs, and Unitarian minister will speak on "Palestine in Today's News" at 8 p.m. Monday in Memorial hall. His lecture is under sponsorship of the Lexington Ministerial Association.

Van Paasen, author of several books—among them "The Forgotten Ally," a story of Palestinian Jewish participation in World War II which was banned from British bookstores—will be at Morris Book Store from 3 until 5 p.m. Monday afternoon to autograph his books.

Tickets for the lecture are on sale at the Campus Book Store, Morris Book Shop, Graves-Cox, and all churches affiliated with the ministerial association. Rabbi Albert Lewis, secretary of the organization, said today. Admission will be fifty cents.

Phi Mu Alpha Convention Delegates

Dr. Alexander Capurso, faculty adviser to the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonians, men's professional music fraternity, has announced that Perry Adams, president of Alpha Gamma chapter, and Bill Waters will be the chapter delegates to the national convention at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, December 27-29.

Phalanx Plants Two

Phalanx fraternity added two trees to Phalanx Row at formal planting ceremonies Tuesday.

The custom, which was started last year, will be an annual affair. Harold Friedly, president of the group, stated. Phalanx Row includes the walk from the Administration building to the library.

Professor Norris Elliott, of the horticulture department accepted the trees for the University.

Phalanx, which is sponsored by the YMCA, is a fraternity devoted to Christian standards.

Time Out!

By O. C. Halyard Jr.

It's not often that a columnist gets an opportunity to pat himself on the back. Instead he usually has to spend most of his time correcting his mistakes or trying to explain how he was wrong.

Back in the summer when we were riding herd on the football squad and reporting their progress, there appeared in the June 21 issue of the Kernel in this column a paragraph which read:

"All in all, with the squad that's out for practice now, and the others who just recently finished spring practice, Kentucky may have a passing team next season. Remember 70% is usually considered passing."

Well, with the West Virginia victory tucked under their belt, the Wildcats already have a seven out of ten count which gives them a passing 70%. When we wrote the article, we figured the Georgia, Alabama, and Tennessee games as the ones on the deficit side of the ledger.

So far so good. But the team has shown up much better than we figured it would be, and has had little trouble winning in any of the seven victories. Now, only Tennessee, who hasn't locked too impressive this season, remains to be played.

All this and the fact that we just know we didn't have picked a 10-game card completely right, leads us to believe that an 80% mark for the team is not only possible, but probable. And remember, 80% is darn good.

Any way, win or lose in tomorrow's game, the Wildcats will at least have a passing team. Seventy percent in the first year is more than the alumni bargained for when they hired Coach Bryant.

Coach Bryant and his staff of assistants, Coaches Leslie, Mosley, Balisaris, Atkinson, and McCubbin have already more than met the demands expected of them. They have given Kentucky a winning team—the greatest we believe in Kentucky history—and have removed us from the welcome mat of the conference.

But to attend one of the pep rallies given by Sukey, a stranger would think that winning football at the University of Kentucky, like final exams, was just bound to be. Students have shown about the same type of interest in pep rallies that they show in finals.

Sure we've had a lot of pep and school spirit at the games, but the team was playing right in front

WBKY Boasts Most Variety On Campus

By Tommy Underwood

A lot of people wander in and out of McVey Hall's two front entrances these days but not too many of them know about "funny goings on" on the top floor of the building. Where else would one spend an afternoon listening to the latest wing without deviating from his scheduled curriculum? What other department of the University rates fan mail?

The explanation: McVey's top deck houses a radio station, WBKY, UK radio medium succeeds in being informal and more fun than an out-of-town football game.

One evening the University's broadcasting outlet was running a live show. Announcer Hugh Dunbar, equipped with earphones, was listening to the platter he had just introduced. Suddenly Mr. Dunbar ducked away from zooming planes, bursting rockets, and rapid fire ack-ack.

Someone had accidentally plugged the announcer's earphones into a record of sound effects. Another time early in the summer, an unlabeled fifteen minute transcription was being used over the air while an engineer labored over transmitter adjustments on a test broadcast.

A cheery young lady phoned the studio to wish the staff of WBKY a merry Christmas, too. Finally someone found that the transcription being aired was a program of carols.

Jehny Myer was tuning across the low band of his FM receiver on October 16, in Dallas, Texas. Suddenly, he was listening to a program from WBKY. A freak atmospheric condition got the blame for this transmission as WBKY's normal range had been line-of-light, an estimated 30 mile radius.

WBKY's listening public had been limited (not over 1,000 families) by the scarcity of frequency modulation receivers available in this area. But more were coming to the stores.

Commercial stations, including WLAP and WIAS had filed for permission to broadcast FM, but to date WBKY was the only FM voice in Kentucky. The signal output was loud, clear, staticless, but a bigger and better transmitter was soon to be employed to conform with a regulation of The Federal Communications Commission requiring FM stations to transmit on a higher frequency. A tower had been begged from the Lexington police to accommodate a higher antenna.

WBKY's skipper was Elmer C. Sulzer, affable, farsighted head of the newly formed Department of Radio Arts. Mr. Sulzer had previously been connected with the music department and the department of public relations. WBKY was his brainchild. Mr. Sulzer was teaching an introductory course in radio. Discussions of announcing, production and standard studio equipment were influencing members of a large enthusiastic class to choose radio careers. Guest speakers each an outstanding man in a particular phase of radio work, lectured on Fridays to the radio class. Many of the students wanted to major in radio, if a full scale radio-arts department were to be developed at U of K.

A radio announcing class was being conducted by Lolo M. Robinson, energetic perfectionist, who has been directing UK radio programming for several years. The announcing class, too, was oversized but enthusiastic and learning fast.

Outstanding talent being aired by WBKY on its Monday-Wednesday-Friday night broadcasts were a couple of vets: Jack Fierabend, who plays a fine versatile piano, sings nicely; has written one of his own songs; and Louis Swain announcer with a moon-voiced voice and a flair for difficult pronunciations and foreign dialects.

Top vocalists were Marjorie Hawkins, who was also doing a program for a commercial station, and Jo Ann Talley. WBKY was calling the football games in addition to its regular broadcasts. Chief announcer O. C. Halyard and other sportscasters Dick Lowe and A. Abramson were handling the games with professional competence.

Chief studio engineer Jimmy Hsieh, who contracted to build the new transmitter, headed a good staff of engineering students who were handling program engineering. Three students with service experience in electronics were handling transmitter engineering chores.

WBKY was ready for the FM boom.

Bryant, and with all our efforts, we almost outdid Maryland's demands against your leaving.

We're really thankful. Why aren't we already talking about bowl bids just as if they were annual occurrences? Aren't we talking about OUR great team? Aren't we already threatening sit down strikes unless we get better seats at the games? And hasn't the band and Sukey gone overboard to show OUR appreciation?

Guess it's just human nature.

CAT-VOL SCRAP

Art Shires, all All-American. Mike was on the 1940 Rose Bowl team that had many other standards. He also calls this year's Tennessee schedule the toughest, saw the Vols come from behind to whip the Cats of their opponents. Last week's victory in Brentwood is a good example of this, for the southern team, 14-0, at half-time before mounting the attack, which gave them a 33-14 decision over Brentwood.

The flanks were manned by Hubbell and Jordan, both towering above the six-foot mark. Hubbell caught passes for the winning touchdowns against Georgia Tech and Duke. The substitute, Powell, is just about as good, grabbed three heaves for all the scoring against Ole Miss.

Huffman: The Man
Left tackle is handled by Huffman, 240-pound athlete who measures six feet, two inches and is fast, despite his size. He knocked Steve Filipowicz, Fordham, out of the 42 Super Bowl game, and LSA's Alvin Dark, in another tilt.

On the right side, Crawford, who is regarded as Huffman's equal, guards guard list. Prior and Taylor, both just short of 200 pounds, are Stephenson at center completes the first-string line. Almost all of whom were on the 1942 Super Bowl squad. These forwards, by their blocking, help many a downback march. Too, on two different occasions this year after an overtime game by Tennessee, even men on the opposing team was knocked down as a Vol back sped forward.

Backfield Men Appear
The backfield is rich in depth as well as talent. Ball, a brother George may start at fullback, though Mark Major is the likely nominee. Gold and Hill are other candidates here, making the Vol's fullback berth its strongest in history, not only in the line of one or two-yard bucks for first downs, but all-around gaining. Slater, Hall and Proctor are three linebackers of triple-threat calibre. Slater will probably start, but Proctor is qualified with winning the last two games.

At blocking back is Charlie Mitchell, with Jack Armstrong for relief. Wingbacks are Hillman, Chauncey and Parton, all fast, hard runners who are particularly able in reverses. The Vols employ a balanced line with a single wing, use their quarterback under the center much in the manner of a "T."

Kentucky needs offer no excuses for the lineup which has carried it to its best record in 34 years. The Cats are in excellent physical condition; only absentee Saturday will be Jack Farris, out since early season. Coach Bryant has called for little heavy work in practice this week, among other reasons because his lighter line will be in for a beating against the heavier Tennessee forwards Saturday. The Cats have "walked" through signal drills, avoided contact work almost entirely.

The Wildcats have been given a look-see by Vol scouts, too. Johnny Mauer, former Kentucky basketball coach, now Tennessee court strategist, watched the Cats in six games. Britton saw them in another.

Last Game For Four Cats
Three Kentucky seniors will be playing their last college game. These are Phil Cutliff, team money-maker and ace passer, Charley Bill Walker, second-string center, and Jesse Tunstall, back. Another senior, Bill Portwood, will not be in uniform because of injuries.

The Wildcats will leave tonight, their special Pullman will be tracked at Knoxville, where they will stay until game time.

ODK Pledges Four Men

Omicron Delta Kappa, national senior men's leadership honorary, has pledged four new men to membership. They are: A. J. Spare, graduate student in civil engineering; Robert L. Landrum, senior in the College of Commerce; Lewis Sawin, senior in the College of Arts and Sciences; and George E. Barker, first-year law student.

Spare is president of the local chapter of the American Society for Civil Engineers. He was business manager of the Kentucky Engineer in 1941, lieutenant colonel in R.O.T.C. in 1942, member of Pershing Rifles for two years and captain of Pershing Rifles in 1942, lieutenant on the rifle team, and a member of the Student Union board.

Landrum is a member of Beta Gamma Sigma, commerce honorary, and was manager of the basketball team 1940-43, and received a letter for the 1942-43 season. He was president of Lances in 1943.

Sawin is president of Lamp and Cross, and a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He was head announcer at the University radio studios, managing editor of the Kernel in 1942, and receiver of a Kernel key in 1943.

Barker is advertising manager of the Kernel, and secretary of Lamp and Cross; he was president of Phi Kappa Alpha, and was business manager of the Kernel for the summer term of 1941.

Formal pledging of new members will take place at 11:30 today in Room 206 of the Student Union building.

'Y' Delegates Attend National Meeting At Illinois University

Delegates from the University Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A. will attend the 1946 National Student Assembly to be held on the campus of the University of Illinois December 27 to January 3.

Principal speakers for the assembly will include Dr. Howard Thurman and Dr. Albert C. Outler. Dr. Thurman was for many years Dean of the Chapel at Howard University, Washington, D. C. He has travelled extensively in this country and abroad speaking to student groups. At present he is co-pastor of an inter-racial church in San Francisco.

Dr. Outler formerly was a member of the faculty of Duke University. Last year Dr. Outler became associate professor of Theology at Yale University Divinity school. Other leaders for the assembly are to be announced.

The Circle of Faith and Action adopted by the National Intercollegiate Christian Council is the theme for the program. Its center is Christian Faith and it is divided into two sections: Christian heritage, growth of persons, social responsibility, and world relatedness. Christian Associations are requested to send their recommendations for changes for proposed program and policies to the Assembly Planning Committee by December 15.

Kappa Dels Win Third Successive Room Judging

Gerry Gooch, Somerset, and Pat Kessack, Louisville, last Sunday were awarded the silver cup presented annually by the University House Presidents Council to the girls having the neatest room on the campus. The presentation marked the third successive year that members of the Kappa Delta sorority have been recipients of the first place cup.

In addition to the campus winners who represented unit one, the other three unit winners were: unit two, Dottie Grugin and Joyce Jordan, Zeta Tau Alpha; unit three, Evelyn Wilson, Sue Warren, and Vivian Hines Hamilton house; and unit four Eleanor Caslick, Betty Crump, Sue Ann Cunningham, Patterson hall.

KASV Plans Drive To Buy Recreation Center For Veterans

The executive committee of the Kentucky Association of Student Veterans has approved a plan for a state-wide drive for funds to enable the purchase of a veteran's recreation center for Kentucky State college. Howard Bowles, president of the UK Veterans' club announced Monday.

Bowles said he had appointed a committee of four members of the association to organize the drive under the chairmanship of Frank Donnell of the University of Louisville. Other members are John Gherman, Centre college; Bill Barnett, Eastern State Teachers college; and Louis Carter, Kentucky State college.

A building two stories high and measuring 100x100 feet will be requested from the Surplus Material board when sufficient funds are available, he said.

WAA Allocates UK Additional Buildings

Fourteen barracks and two recreation buildings from Bowman field in Louisville have been allocated to the University by the War Assets Administration.

This is the second allocation made upon request for emergency facilities in September. The two recreation buildings are believed to be in request for additional physical education facilities for the school's overflowing student body, with barracks designed for classroom space.

Each of the buildings is two stories high and has a capacity of approximately 2,000 square feet.

ALUMNI NEWS

THEN and NOW

PERSONALITIES

First Lieut. Howard "Dutch" Kreuter, Ex. 33, of Newport, has been assigned to the European Aviation Engineer Command, one of the newest units in the Army Air Force, according to a War Department dispatch.

"Dutch" was captain of the Wildcat football team in 1931-32 and was regarded as one of the best ends ever to play for Kentucky. After leaving college he played two seasons as an outfielder with a New York Yankee far melub.

He has been in the service since 1941, leaving for overseas in July of this year. He served as an athletic director for various Air Force establishments in this country, before going over.

Robert McDowell Allen, '08, of Newark, N.J., will represent the University of Kentucky at the inauguration of a new president and a new vice president of Bloomfield College and Seminary in Bloomfield, N., November 25.

Ida Schoene, '43, of Webster Groves, Mo., writes the Alumni office that she is editor of the house organ for employees of the Wagner Electric corporation at St. Louis, Mo. There are about 5,600 employees in the St. Louis branch and about 600 elsewhere.

Miss Schoene's sister, Ellen, who holds two degrees from the University obtained in 1940 and 1941, is now teaching school at Sarasota, Fla.

Elwood N. Chambers, '40, of Lexington, has been named a lieutenant colonel in the Kentucky National Guard and assigned to the organization of a field artillery battalion.

A native of Letcher county, Chambers enlisted in the National Guard prior to World War II. During service in the European theater he reached the rank of lieutenant colonel. In 1946 he was graduated from the Army's Command and General Staff school at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. Headquarters for the new battalion will be at Lexington.

Helen E. Fry, '34, who has been serving as Army librarian at the Weisbaden, Germany headquarters of the U. S. Army Air Forces in Europe, came home recently for a six weeks leave.

Formerly a member of the University of Kentucky library staff, Miss Fry also writes a weekly book review column for the local Army newspaper and broadcasts a "Travel Time" program twice weekly.

Wheeler B. Boone, '45, Lexington attorney and member of the Fayette county bar association, was recently admitted to practice in the United States district court at Lexington. He was introduced to the court by Richard P. Stoll, AB, '42, LL.B. '44, also a practicing attorney in Lexington.

Elizabeth Hardwick, '38, of Lexington, author of "The Ghostly Lover," novel published last year, as well as numerous short stories, recently received notice that two of her short stories are to appear in new anthologies. One will be included in "The Best Short Stories of 1946," and the other in "The Best World Stories of 1946."

Dr. Walter H. Griffing, '36, of Lexington, who served 42 months as a major in the Army Medical Corps, has been appointed radiologist on the staff of the Lexington Clinic. He obtained his medical degree from the Vanderbilt School of Medicine and is a member of the American, Kentucky, and Fayette medical societies and is affiliated with specialists societies in his field.

Moosnich Addresses Bacteriology Society

Dr. Franklin B. Moosnich, Lexington physician specializing in internal medicine, spoke to the Bacteriology society Monday of "The Etiology of Infectious Hepatitis." Dr. Moosnich was closely associated with studies made by the U. S. Army and worked with the British investigators in the field.

Beta Gamma Sigma, Commerce Honorary, Elects Five Members

Beta Gamma Sigma, commerce honorary society, this week announced the election of the following to membership in the organization: Mrs. Greenwood Coconough; Jack Mattingly, Hardinsburg; William O. Laslie, West Point; Lee Troy Smith, Lexington; and Virgil Christian, Horse Cave. Initiation of the new members will be held December 2.

Block Print Textile Exhibit In Art Gallery

Twenty-five textiles of different materials done in block prints, stencil and applique will be on exhibit in the Art Gallery in the Biological Sciences building for several weeks. These prints were done by students studying under Margaret Artinistall, instructor in textiles at the Art school of the Chicago Institute of Art.

According to Professor Raymond Bennett of the art department, the textiles are "almost professional in technique, of an unusually high caliber for student work, and superb in craftsmanship and color unity."

The Japanese prints that have been on exhibit in the Art Gallery will remain on display.

Phi Mu Alpha Initiates Seven Men

The Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonians, men's professional music fraternity, held initiation ceremony for Don Stone, Bill Jones, Jack Penneck, Bert Check, Jack Feierabend, Caswell Logan and Forrest Schenks in Memorial hall Sunday.

A dinner for the initiates followed at the Phoenix hotel. Guest speaker was Mr. Jack Bryden, head of the music department at Transylvania college.

FROM THE GREEKS

By Janet Sulzer

Nothing has been planned for this week-end here in Lexington by the sororities and fraternities. The KA's are having a post-game celebration(?) in the Andrew Johnson hotel in Knoxville, tomorrow. Cas Lane is making the arrangements. Bill and George Griffin will hold open house at their home near London for the KA's returning from Knoxville Sunday.

The KD's entertained with an open house for the Phi Dels and Kappa Sigs last Saturday afternoon. Thursday, the KD alumni had a benefit bridge at the chapter house.

The Sigma Nus were guests of the Delta Zetas at an open house Friday afternoon.

The Kappa Sigs held their fall formal Friday night at the Lexington Country club. Bob Bleidt's orchestra played. The arrangements were made by Bob Kaiser. About 200 guests were present.

The new ATO initiates were guests at dinner at the Phoenix hotel Sunday evening. A buffet supper and open house were given by the ATO's following the West Virginia game. Bill Lamb, social chairman, made the arrangements.

The Delta Zeta pledges entertained the pledges of other sororities Thursday afternoon. Carolyn Davis and Peake Shehan were in charge of the arrangements.

The Dels entertained their dates with a buffet supper and house dance after the game Saturday. Jack McNeal and Ted Beck were in charge.

Sunday, the Delta Zetas will have a tea in honor of their housemother, Mrs. Timothy Pennington. Pat Hinc is making the arrangements.

Although the emphasis has been on interfraternity relations this month, the Sigma Nus by inviting the Kappas to use the SN house for a Kappa open house, have set a precedent that is already being eagerly followed by other fraternities. Rumor has it that several other of the frats immediately offered their houses to the Kappas and then fretted for not having thought of it first.

After the SN open house it was heard that the Dels were next to offer their house and services.

The 1947 Dream Girl of Kentucky Alpha of Sigma Phi Epsilon social fraternity will be presented Friday night at the chapter's annual formal dance which will be held at the Lexington Country club.

The Dream Girl will be selected from candidates representing 10 social sororities at the University. The presentation ceremonies will be broadcast over Lexington radio station WKLX. Miff Moel and his orchestra will play for the dance.

The 10 candidates are Jo Ann Belton, Kappa Delta; Mary Keith Dosker, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Ann Carter, Zeta Tau Alpha; Suzanne Hannahs, Alpha Delta Pi; Elizabeth Walters, Alpha Xi Delta; Carolyn Moore, Chi Omega; Ann Grey, Delta Delta Delta; Mary O'Neill, Alpha Gamma Delta; Ann Creech, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Mary Le Stamper, Delta Zeta.

The KD's entertained last Saturday afternoon with an open house for the Phi Dels and the Kappa Sigs.

Thursday the KD alumni held a benefit bridge at the chapter house.

Tulane Game First For UK Students

Coach Adolph Rupp's Southeastern basketball champions get their season under way next week with Thursday and Saturday night games in Alumni gym. Though the schedule opens Thursday night against Indiana Central, the starter from a student standpoint will be the weekend game against Tulane, for this is the first tilt assigned to UK enrollees. It is in the A group of games, for which odd-numbered activity books are good.

The Thanksgiving night inaugural has been allotted to the public because of Alumni gym's limited seating space, will be the second part of a sports double-header. Murray and Henry Clay high schools will meet in the annual Shrine football game on Stoll field that afternoon.

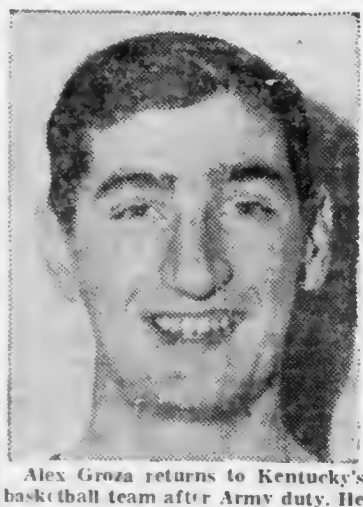

The Hoosiers won six, lost eight last year, are expected to employ the fast break so typical of Indiana basketball. The Indianapolis school was signed after about 20 schools had been contacted, according to Bernie Shively, athletic director.

Tulane brings a much more impressive record, having won 15 and lost only six in court campaigning last winter. The Green Wave is annually ranked among the better SEC quintets.

Coach Rupp has not decided on a starting lineup. Jim Jordan, All-American at North Carolina here, is expected to start. Alex Groza, standout here prior to Army duty; Bob Brannum, All-American here before service in Hawaii; Ken Rollins, regular on the 1942-43 'Cat five; Buddy Parker, another letterman; Joe Holland, from last year's team and Jack Tingle, star for two seasons are among those sure to see action.

"Wah-Wah" Jones will trade his moleskins for cage togs next week, when he joins the basketballers. He was a starter on last year's quintet that won the Southeastern conference championship and the national invitational tournament and 28 of 30 games.

Alex Groza returns to Kentucky's basketball team after Army duty. He was mentioned as a possible All-American before entering the service midway in the 1944-45 season.

SX, SN Undefeated In Volleyball Play

As fourteen teams entered in the volleyball tournament continue to meet on the hardwood court, it becomes more and more apparent which teams will play in the elimination tourney.

Again the Sigma Chis are presenting a strong aggregation, along with the Sigma Nus. Both teams are undefeated. Other teams that are showing well in the round-robin play are the SAE's, Phi Taus and Phi Sigma Kappas.

Only two more nights of play remain in preliminary bouts. After that the top four teams in each division, according to their win-loss percentage will be seeded in the tourney for the trophies.

Senior intramural manager, W. W. Cooper, said he hoped to have drawings made and be ready to start final contests on December 2. This would wind up the tourney before final exams start.

Finals in the tennis singles and doubles still remain to be played. Cooper said the final meets would be held just as soon as possible, and requests contestants to keep in touch with the intramural office. As soon as the winners are determined, presentation of trophies will be made.

Winter quarter intramurals will begin soon after the start of the quarter. Basketball will be featured, with boxing and wrestling. Plans for additional winter sports are being made.

Guignol Did It Again

By Casey Goman

This is the tenth Guignol review I have written since I entered the University, and, as always, Guignol did it again. Did it again, that is, and turned in an excellent performance.

Dunster Pettit, as Catherine Apple, dominates every scene in which she appears, and the regular first nighters tell me that that is a habit of hers, for she is a member of Guignol of long standing.

Ed Mills, with his facility for becoming the person whom he is portraying, is a smooth and convincing old line Bostonian—even George Apple himself would approve, I think.

One of the finest characterizations on the set is that of Jane Willing. Her lines are pithy, and Mrs. Hatchford plays them well.

The set for The Late George Apple deserves mention, too. It is attractive, as are all Mr. Fowler's sets, and, in the main, authentic. There has been discussion over the one-color woodwork and walls, with the authenticists maintaining that the woodwork should be dark, but my vote stays with the set, as is.

John Rehm, Jack Fenton, Frank Johnson, Dabney George, James Snyder, Marjorie VanArsdale, Douglas Hancock, Alice Dean, June Herndon and J. Reid Sterrett, with Ralph Carter taking Mr. Sterrett's part Friday and Saturday nights, complete the cast.

Frank Fowler, director, and his associate, Wally Briggs, did it, and it is exceedingly seeable. And, it will run all next week, with the exception of Thanksgiving day. Tickets on sale at the box office.

National President Addresses AIEE

J. Elmer Housley, national president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, spoke at a special meeting of the UK branch of the AIEE, Wednesday, November 13.

Mr. Housley, who took office in January, 1946, is one of the leading men in the field of industrial electrical engineering. As chief electrical engineer of the Alcoa Aluminum Company, he is primarily interested in transformer and circuit breaker design.

The fields open to graduating engineers were discussed, and a series of pictures on recent industrial machinery improvements were explained by Mr. Housley.

The A.I.E.E. is sponsoring a dance to be held in the engineering study hall on Friday, November 22, from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. All electrical engineers are invited. Tickets are available in the E.E. office.

Six faculty members are attending the Kentucky Conference of Social Welfare, which is being held in Louisville today and Saturday.

Members attending are Dr. H. L. Donovan, Dr. Harold Weizel, Dr. Irvin T. Sanders, and Mr. J. E. Reeves, all members of the planning of executive committee; Mrs. Alice Rucker, member of the program committee, and Dr. Howard Beers, who will appear on the program.

Panhellenic Receives Sorority Pledges

Approximately 275 sorority pledges were introduced to the members of the Women's Panhellenic Association at a reception in the Bluegrass room of the Union building last night.

Angela Meisch, president of the Women's Panhellenic Association, presented a check for $500, representing a donation from all sororities to the Frances Jewell McVey memorial scholarship fund, to Dean of Women Sarah B. Holmes.

Formerly a banquet was held to introduce new pledges, but this was discontinued two years ago when the present plan was adopted.

Punch and cookies were served after the presentation. Guests were members of the staff of the dean of women, fraternity and sorority housemothers, deans of the colleges and their wives, Dr. and Mrs. Herman Lee Donovan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peterson, Dr. Frank L. McVey and Mrs. Park.

Information gives YOU the answers ... who gives them to HER?

A lot of people take the Information Service of the Bell System for granted. Little do they realize what it takes to answer some two and a half million questions during a normal day.

Of course it takes operators... over 12,000 highly skilled "Information" operators.

But, in addition, it takes a staff of trained executive personnel.

They plan this service for cities and towns across the country so that "Information" can quickly find the latest listings of the many telephones within her area—from records that are brought up to date daily. And it is they who study operating methods and equipment in the never-ending search to make this service ever faster, ever better.

Is it any wonder that today, more than ever before, management is interested in young men with imagination and ambition... men to develop with the industry?

Many Memories Of Vol Games Among Kentucky Coaches

Not only does the Tennessee-Kentucky game represent the Wildcat's "game of the year," but the renewal of an old rivalry to six of the seven coaches. The seventh mentor—coach Mike Ballitaris—is a former Vol star himself, flanked against the 'Cats from 1939 through 1941.

Head man Paul Bryant, assistants Frank Moseley and Carnay Laslie, became exponents of the "Beat Tennessee" theme while playing for Alabama's Crimson Tide. Ted Atkinson, three-year letterman at Vanderbilt and captain in 1941, also regards this as much more than a game, for the Commodores and Vols are bitter interstate rivals. Bill McCubbin and Ernie Allen saw too many Vol victories while Wildcat warriors themselves.

Ballitaris has coached every Tennessee game this year, has been around so much that some Volunteer fans probably think he has stayed on as a coach. A victory over his old mates would be pleasant potter for the Pennsylvanian in his first year as a coach. Six of his former teammates, Drost, Mitchell, Price, Hubbell, Slater, and Gold, are still on the Tennessee roster. Price and Drost will start at guards, Hubbell at left end, Mitchell at quarterback and Slater at left half in Saturday's game.

The "Bear" has the most enviable memory of Tennessee outcomes, for the '33, '34 and '35 Bama teams he played on topped the Vols every season. Moseley's mates had less luck against the Tennesseans, losing in Mose's sophomore and junior years, but winning in his senior try. He and Bryant played together in 1933. Laslie also saw two Tennessee triumphs over Alabama in his career at the "Capstone," the same defeats that Moseley remembers, for the two were teammates in 1931 and '32. Laslie's first year on the varsity included a win over the Vols, however.

Vandy's Atkinson and UK's Allen and McCubbin have never seen their buddies on the winning side of a score against Tennessee. The closest Allen ever came to success was in 1941, when he flipped a pass to Bill Portwood early in the game for Kentucky's first score against the Vols since 1936. The tally put the 'Cats ahead for short-lived joy by their followers, before the Volunteers came back to achieve a 20-7 success.

PHELPS, CUTCHIN TOP STATISTICS

"Dopey" Phelps leads Wildcat gridgers in three departments of individual statistics—total points scored, kickoff returns and punt run backs. The outstanding freshman has tallied 42 points on seven touchdowns. Phil Cutchin ranks second with 35, of which 20 have been counted on conversions. A field goal and two touchdowns complete his total.

Wallace Jones, flashy flanker, runs third with 30, all via pass catches. Fullback Bill Chambers and Jack Farris, out since the Georgia game with injuries, have 18 each to tie for fourth Jim Kenard and Gene Meeks have registered two six-pointers each. Charlie Benley, George Sengle, Dennis Rice, Ben Heininger, Norman Klein, Bill Portwood, Jerry Claiborne, Dick Henley have a touchdown apiece. Bill Schaffnit's blocked punt against Xavier, Bill Bolter's four conversions complete Wildcat scoring, except for one marker Ernie Allen ran across before his ineffectuality.

Cutchin is far ahead in passing, is second in punting. He has kicked 403 yards on 25 tosses. He has kicked 28 times for 1011—an average of 36.1. Bolter is second among tossers, having heaved 11 times for 160 yards. George Blanda leads in punting after his 25 boots that have scored 1029 yards for an average of 39.6 per kick.

Jim Kennard's 166 yards in 26 tries—an average of 6.3 per effort—leads in this department. Phelps has gained 261 on 45 occasions for a 5.8 average. Carl Genito with 4.3, Chambers with 4.4, and Bill Moseley with 4.2 follow these two.

Phelps' 42.3 average on 3 kickoff returns leads Chambers, who has run back seven for 229 yards and a 32.7 mark. "Dopey" is far in front on punt returns, however; he has traveled 242 yards in 10 times, an average of 24.2 per gallop. Rice with 15.5 in eight runs that garnered 124 yards, Meeks with a 11.3 average from six returns that netted 62 yards are other leaders in this phase of play.

Phelps, Cutchin, Big Claws In 'Cat Win Over W. Va.

By Baxter Melton
Kernel Sports Editor

Tennessee's Volunteers will probably be "half-minded" in Saturday's Knoxville fray since Kentucky's coach seems concentrated at these positions. Phil Cutchin at left half is the team's ace passer and ball taker. "Dopey" Phelps at the right one is leading point-producer with 42, tallied both markers in the 'Cat's won, 13-0, over West Virginia's Mountaineers Saturday in the 1946 home finale on muddy Stoll field.

Despite a steady drizzle, a near-capacity crowd was on hand as Kentucky mustered its seventh success in nine starts and its best win-loss record since 1932. Passing was held to a minimum by the slippery pigskin, uniforms were so dirty it was difficult to tell who was who. Once in the third quarter on a Statue of Liberty play, when Phelps took the ball from Cutchin, many fans heaped a Mountainier had taken the duck. Phelps' jersey was so muddy. Another indication of weather's effect was the low total of pass attempts. The visitors tried eight, one more than the Wildcats, and each eleven completed two.

"Was a brilliant valedictory here for Cutchin, as the Murray senior

227,300 FANS SEE WILDCATS

Including the 40,000 that will see Kentucky's annual Tennessee in Knoxville Saturday, the Wildcats will have played before 227,300 spectators in their 10-game schedule—more than twice the 104,000 total of last year.

Though complete statistics are not available for other years, it is believed that this fall's figure is a record. Coach Paul Bryant's little may blues have attracted 90,000 fans for games on Stoll field, 128,000 to an equal number on the road.

Once again UK's need for a larger stadium is graphically illustrated. Of the five home contests, three—Mississippi, Xavier and Vanderbilt—were sellouts, the Michigan State game would have been, but many bought all tickets gone. The West Virginia tilt could have easily reached a "Surrey, all gone" stage, except for rain.

Two road trips produced sellouts at Cincinnati and Montgomery, were the first in history at either. Saturday's finale will probably be in this class by gametime, as 40,000 total will represent the largest crowd the Wildcats have performed before all season. The 14 route mile drew the smallest gathering—12,000. Milwaukee is not a football town though; Notre Dame, Northwestern, Michigan and Illinois are all too close with weekly big games.

By games the attendance was as follows: Mississippi, 19,000; Xavier, 20,000; Vanderbilt, 21,000; Mississippi State, 19,500; West Virginia 19,000; Cincinnati, 27,000; Georgia 17,000; Alabama at Montgomery, 23,000.

will end his collegiate career at Knoxville. He flipped the second touchdown to Phelps, made his twentieth conversion by adding a point after the first score. He ranks second to Phelps' pace-setting total with 35 tallies, garnered on two six-pointers and the game winning field goal against Vandy. In addition to his points-after-touchdown, other seniors who donned uniforms for the last time here were Jesse Tunstall and Charley Bill Walker. Bill Portwood, injured end, did not dress.

Danville's Donald sent Kentucky ahead before five minutes had ticked away, when he ran wide around left end to score standing un. He had set up the counter by a 63 yard run to the 12, after a Mountainier kick. For a moment it looked as if the Boyle Bullet would make it his third straight game for a kickoff return to the end zone. Cutchin had received the punt and handed it to "Dopey," who utilized good down-field blocking. Bill Chambers gained one yard on a line buck before Phelps' end sweep. Cutchin's dependable place-kicking added the extra point.

Fumble Sets Up Second
A mountaineer miscue helped Kentucky to its second six-pointer. Joe Kuhavda's fumble on his own 25 was recovered by George Blanda. Chambers slipped on the slippery so, but Phelps grabbed Cutchin's heave on the next play and fought off two tacklers to go goalward. Cutchin's try went wide.

George Freese took Blanda's kickoff and turned in the best Mountainier run of the game. The freshman back shook off several tacklers in reaching his own 33, but this march later ended at the visitors' 41, when Freese fumbled and Len Preston recovered for Kentucky. Preston, by the way, proved that linemen can carry the ball by gaining a yard from his guard snot in a tricky play of the first half.

Jones' Catch Best
The best pass catch of the contest was credited to "Wah-Wah" Jones, who made a shoestring stab of Cutchin's toss in the third period. The play netted 21 yards when the Harlan "hanger-onner" reached the Mountaineer 25-yard stripe. The next two plays illustrate the "mud story." After the Statue of Liberty maneuver, "Cutch" flipped to Jimmy Devonshire of the visitors thinking he was Jones. Devonshire's jersey was so smeared. The visitors' back was yards from anyone, so Kentucky's goal drive ended after reaching the Mountaineer sixteen.

Coach Paul Bryant calls the game Kentucky's best performance all year. Though the game was not as interesting from a spectator's viewpoint, the 'Cat mentor was especially pleased with the way Kentucky's forwards outplayed the heavier West Virginia line. Leo Yarusit and Bill Griffin were standouts, though no credit can be taken from any line-man. Bryant also liked his boys' "playing close to the belt after getting in the lead." The backs' handling of the slippery ball and Cutchin's passing were other notable features, he believes.

MUSING ☆ ☆ with Melton

By Baxter Melton, Kernel Sports Editor

The old saying of "Anything can happen and usually does" is particularly applicable to the Kentucky-Tennessee football feud which has its forty-second renewal in Knoxville Saturday. These "side-shows" are not necessarily confined to the game itself, as a resume of past performances will show.

"Shipwreck" Kelly, as colorful as he was capable, is the subject of many tales about the "hood of days." "Shipwreck's" doggedest deed probably came in the 1931 'Cat-Vol clash, when he ran up into Stoll field box seats to avoid Tennessee tacklers who allegedly were "laying for him." The "Wreck" is better remembered by the neighboring states, though, as a leading penman in the sad stories—from a Vol view—during his years on the varsity.

'Cat Wins Costly

In that '31 game Tennessee could have won undisputed championship of the Southern conference—the Southeastern was two years away—by toping Kentucky. The Tennesseans were held to a 6-6 tie by the Wildcats, led by Kelly and Ralph Kercheval. Kercheval became one of the greatest all-time kickers, played professional ball almost a decade after leaving Kentucky. "Shipwreck's" most recent news note was his marriage to Brenda Frazier, New York debutante and heir to millions.

From 1929 to 1931, however, "Shipwreck" probably thought as much of wedding bells as he did the Siberian garbage situation. 'Twas Tennessee in particular among football foes he mused about. Those three seasons were the hey-day of Hackman and McEver. Tennessee's "wreckdown twins," more commonly known as "Hack and Mack." Both made All-American selections, were kingpins in the Vol offense. Quarterbacking for Tennessee then was Bobby Dodd, now head coach at Georgia Tech.

The Wildcats had also knocked the Volunteers out of a conference title in 1929 by another 6-6 tie. Tennessee would have shared loop honors with Tulane, except for that result. That was the tilt played in a snowstorm; McEver, back in safety position, rolled snowballs all afternoon as the two lines waged a great defensive battle.

And The Beer Keg

For many years an old beer keg has gone to the winner of the annual game. It rests near the Vols' bench one half, the 'Cats' the other. Tennessee failed to bring it to Lexington last year, but will no doubt have it at Shields-Watkins field Saturday. (Maybe they've had ownership so long, they take things for granted). Several years ago Lexington WCU officials objected to its being called a "beer keg," the title of "water keg" was applied. The more popular version couldn't be suppressed, however, and the barrel's one-time malt contents were once again revealed in the name.

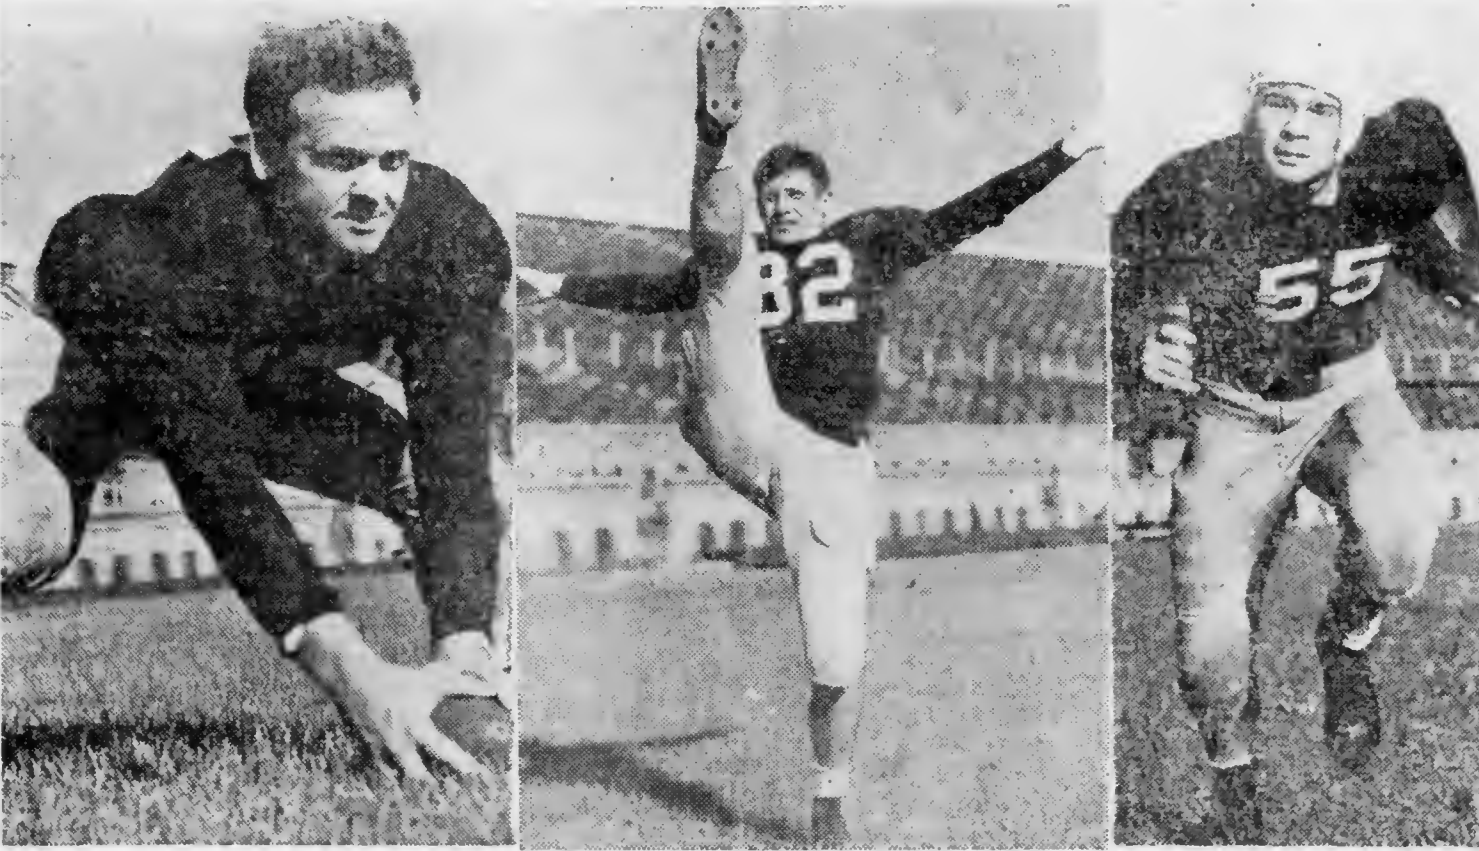

UK band members might be interested in knowing that a 1930 musician had to leave his horn with a Knoxville cab driver in lieu of a fare. That same year the "Best Band in Dixie" was marching along a Knoxville street when a drunk fell into ranks, mumbering something about his old Army days.

A much more recent episode came in 1944, when the 'Cats again trekked to the UT site. Just 15 miles out of Knoxville a tunnel on the railroad fell in, the train reached town 16 hours later. No passage for cars or busses was available, as the dirt avalanche had happened in an inaccessible spot in the mountains. The Wildcats were due in Knoxville at 3 in the afternoon, got there at 5 the next morning. Best chuckle of the whole affair is the fact that many out-of-state gridders were in the traveling squad, took all the ribbing about Kentucky and Tennessee mountaineers seriously. They wouldn't even leave the train for a stretch, so certain were they of feudin' hillbillies, or "revenoosers." Tennessee won the game, 26-13.

Walker Switch Pays

One senior in Saturday's struggle—Charles Walker, center—has good reason to remember his last performance in Shields-Watkins stadium. In 1942 Clyde Johnson, tackle who became Kentucky's first All-American, was injured just before the windup. Walker, first-string center, was switched to tackle, and sophomore Jay Rhodemyre, now 'Cat starting pivotman, filled in at the middle. For his great play in that game Walker was named on the Tennessee all-opponents team, picked by Vol gridders.

Even the Beecats have been involved in stories as aftermaths of Tennessee trips. The 1939 freshman squad—this fall by the way, is the last year wartime rulings will allow first-year men on the varsity—trekked to Knoxville to meet the Vol yearlings. Kentucky's frosh had dressed and were all taped up for the game when Tennessee called the game off. The varsity was out of town, was to meet a big opponent at home the next weekend. A rain which had left Tennessee's turf soggy made athletic authorities fear the field would be too torn up after the freshman fray. They were unable to secure a Knoxville high school gridiron, because just prior to that the university had refused a high school permission to use the field - Watkins stadium. So the high school realized a sort of revenge. Phil Cutchin, 'Cat senior, and key man of this year's varsity, was on the Kitten squad then.

No Bowl Teams Yet

No definite nominees have been named for the Tobacco Bowl contest December 14, but a huge list of possibilities has been narrowed down to about 18 candidates. Among these are Mississippi State, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Alabama, William and Mary, Delaware, St. Bonaventure, Penn State and Hardin-Simmons.

Kentucky is also among these, but the 'Cats are interested right now only in their tilt with the Vols this weekend. Rumor has it that a big bowl game awaits the Wildcats if they top Tennessee, but this lacks verification.

No Slip-Ups This Year

Many other episodes have occurred down through the years. For instance there are the times when Kentucky players slept little or none at all, because of boisterous parties in and around their hotel, self-appointed emissaries running up and down hotel corridors shouting "Yea, Vols!" or a "We'll beat you tomorrow" theme. Coach Paul Bryant is making sure nothing like that will happen this year. The Wildcats will stay in or around their Pullmans until gametime, though the train reaches Knoxville shortly after midnight.

Three seniors playing their last collegiate game will be co-captains of the 'Cats against Tennessee Saturday. They are halfbacks Phil Cutchin and Jesse Tunstall and center Charley Bill Walker. All have won three varsity letters in football, came back to UK to complete careers after military duty. Cutchin is second to Phelps among Wildcat scorers with 35 points, has accounted for almost half of the team's passing yardage and leads the 'Cats' field. One other senior, Bill Portwood, will not be in uniform because of injuries.

Ky. BeeCats Finish Season With 4-2-1 Final Count

Last week-end the Kentucky BeeCats listed a rousing 41-20 win over the Georgetown varsity to give them a final season count of four wins, two losses, and one tie. The junior varsity had little trouble in overcoming the Tigers, and Coach Bill McCubbin used every man in the final engagement.

In addition to the Tigers, the Kentucky understudies have trampled Fort Knox twice this season and split with Miami University in two games. The tie on their record is a 7-7 affair played in their opening game with Morehead. The other loss was a 13-7 setback handed them by the Tennessee B-team. Although they have wound up their season the BeeCats will get together tomorrow morning and journey by special bus to Knoxville to witness the annual scrap between the two varsities. Several members of the JV's, who have been being pushed around all year by the big boys, may get to see action in the scrap. Any way they will be on hand to lend their moral support and maybe toss in a few suggestions from what they learned two weeks ago in their match on Shields-Watkins field.
